▶ LOGISTICS

Our proven expertise in procurement, warehousing, distribution and freight management can help you keep your supply chain - and your business - moving.

In Singapore, we serve 126 locations, setting the highest industry and food safety standards in the cold chain market. Driven by innovation, our unique business model offers customers end-to-end supply chain support with a particular focus on demand planning, forecasting, purchasing, and inventory control as well as cash management.

Customers also benefit from our proven experience and expertise in co-loading frozen, chilled and ambient products into a single delivery vehicle. Not only does this reduce customers' transport costs, but it also cuts store receiving times and frees in-store teams to focus on their core business activities.

Ultimately, we free our customers to focus on their own customers and grow their businesses. They know that they can rely on us to manage their key logistics tasks and deliver the right product at the right time, every time.

Certified excellence

HAVI is accredited to ISO 22000, a globally recognized food safety management system that incorporates the proven HACCP (Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point) principles. We also hold a Grade A food establishment license from the Agri-Food and Veterinary Authority of Singapore (AVA). Achieving these accreditations demonstrates our uncompromising approach to food safety and hygiene.

▶ PACKAGING

HAVI provides strategic and operational expertise to ensure that our customers' packaging supports the optimal movement of their products through the supply chain. We take a holistic view, determining how packaging can support a customer's strategic goals from concept development to production to the market and through end of life. In Singapore, we manage packaging supplies at 131 restaurants for the leading global quick service restaurant brand.

▶ RECYCLING & WASTE

In line with global trends, consumers in Singapore are demanding more from companies when it comes to acting responsibly towards the environment. Drawing on HAVI's global expertise, our teams in Singapore are ideally positioned to respond to people's growing concerns. Worldwide, HAVI provides end-to-end waste management solutions that drive savings and unlock revenue while promoting sustainable business practices.

▶ SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

Our talented Supply Chain Management experts partner with our customers to understand their business objectives, then deliver a suite of right-sized solutions designed to meet those objectives. We know that our customers' primary focus is always on their own customers. Accordingly, our procurement and planning specialists use their expertise to ensure that our customers never run out of the product their customers want to buy. We also handle all the operational issues associated with managing promotions.
